REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Feb. 18.—Eggs—Receipts 5.60 cases. Receipts were light and there was some difficulty in getting goods landed on account of lee in the slips, and with available stock within the limits of a current demand, the market was steady on all grades. Buyers demanded and were allowed the usual concessions on such goods as were poorly graded, or that showed any frozen eggs. There were arrivals by express from Central West, which would denote that the Northern country is opening up, and dealers, with this fact in view, are inclined to keep goods closely cleaned up from day to day. Quotations unchanged.

IN SUIT CASE.

Robbery of Haberdashery Confessed by Thieves, Who Fought

CONTENTS OF SUIT CASE. Sixteen neck scarfs. Seven pairs hose. Twelve watch fobs. Four stickpins. Forty-eight pairs sleeve links. One hundred and thirty-seven colbuttons.

Four sets of shirt stude.

After a struggle at Fourteenth and Market streets last night, the police succeeded in placing under arrest "Con" Parker, alias Sam O'Connell, and Joseph Thies. In their possession was found a suit case, filled with a variety of new articles from a haberdashery store, and which they were trying to dispose of. They also stole $8.

The men were arrested by Detectives Dotzman and Shannon and taken to the Four Courts. Both confessed to Chief of Detectives Desmond that they stole the articles from the store of Meiser, Reingruber & Becht at No. 624 Washington avenue.

Other articles which were stolen by the men have been disposed of. The police are searching the pawushops for them. Among the missing articles are four smoking jackets valued at $50; two Tuxedo coats and vests, valued at $50; and several pair of kid gloves. The articles recovered are valued at about $150.

Before Chief Desmond. Parker broke down. Thies, he said, had been working at the store, repairing the steam pipes. Ho secured the key leading to a hall door and had a duplicate made of it.

Both men went to the store on the evening of February 15. Entering the front hall door, they went upstairs and then down the back stairs to the cellar. They cut the panel from a door and entered the store. It is not believed that they have had experience as burgiars.

Detectives Dotzman and Shannon saw the two men standing in front of a secondhand store near Fourteenth and Market streets. They were acting suspiciously. When the officers tood the men that they were wanted at the Four Courts, they made an effort to oscape. Seeing this was impossible, they began to fight. Thies bears a discolored eye as the result of resecting arrest. Warrants against them will be applied for this morning.
